Science, management and society around aquatic ecosystems: from the springs to the sea

The French Association for Limnology (AFL) and the Union of French Oceanographers (UOF) are pleased to announce that the JILO are coming back. These International Days of Limnology and Oceanography will take place in Corte, in Corsica, from October 10th to 13th, 2022. They are supported by the Environmental Agency of Corsica (OEC) and the University of Corsica Pasquale Paoli.

Save the dates now to participate in this event organized around the knowledge, management, protection and restoration of aquatic freshwater, brackish and marine ecosystems.

You can find below the list of sessions, some key dates, the composition of the scientific committee, as well as invited speakers.

INFORMATION ON THE SYMPOSIUM PLACE

The 5th International Days of Limnology and Oceanography (JILO) will take place in Corte (Corsica, France), at the University of Corsica, Campus Grimaldi.

Several airline and maritime companies serve Corsica. The island has 4 international airports and 6 commercial harbours which are served throughout the year from major French and European cities.

To reach Corte, several options exist, amongst which car rental is the most practical. In terms of accommodation, many hotels can be found in Corte.
